A game easy to learn but very rich and complex to master

→ Enter the Altenor Tower

Designed for 2 to 4 players, Altenor Secrets is a mix of different game mechanics: macro strategy, bluffing and anticipation are needed to win the battles.

Playing on an ever-shifting board is a unique and exciting feeling that will twist your mind!

The carefully balanced system includes a small element of chance in the game overall to increase the fun. However, players have many options and choices available to stack the odds and reduce randomness if they want to avoid it.

The sheer number of possible parameters, teams, and strategies make each game a unique experience. In fact, even confronting the same opponent more often actually deepens the bluffing and mind games.

Send your characters into Altenor Tower, a unique and atypical board made of 5 rotating rings, each one composed of 8 different kinds of rooms, representing a true maze and offering multiple gameplay possibilities. As each ring can rotate, Altenor Secrets offers a highly modular board that serves as a battleground for player-controlled adventurer guilds. Use precious cards to move the rings at your will, hold strategic positions in each ring, and take advantage of or avoid specific rooms and walls. Fast-paced alternating activations and lots of free movements make this game dynamic!

After four turns, the side with the most points wins. In the Tower, there are many paths to victory! Use as many as possible of the 6 ways to score: collect & defend artefacts lying in inner rings, hold position in the middle rings, control the grand halls in the outer rings, engage in combat, use special abilities and/or succeed on meeting your initial bet conditions!

→ Different modes to fit your gaming experience

“The Arena” allows you to play with different set-ups: 1 vs 1, 2 vs 2 or even 1 vs 2. Made for those who love a true game of mind, “The Arena” includes 6 guilds and 16 abilities to add layers of complexity.

Tip: an introduction scenario will help you to dive into the game for the first time!

In “Expert” mode, first thing to do is choosing your faction and abilities wisely: each of them has special asymmetrical features and distinctive skills that will lead your style of play! Then master the 6 ways of scoring, using abilities and fighting cards to add a layer of bluff and get the upper edge on your opponent.

For more casual games, or simply for your first games, don't hesitate to use the “Beginner” mode. When playing “Beginner” mode, both teams have symmetrical gameplay and a small to medium complexity to master (only 3 ways of scoring, use of dice for fighting).

When playing in coop (2 players for the same side), split the team and add your brains! You can go up to 4 factions on the board and twice as many abilities in your hands!

Exclusive campaign hint:

Get ready to enter Altenor Secrets Championship mode: play in leagues and make it last over time, as a true campaign!

Inside the Tower

An atorium is a magical object in perpetual motion. These rare artifacts can measure from a few centimeters to kilometers in size. Atoriums placed in mechanical or organic receptacles provide energy, power and other unique properties. Tempting but risky! Grafting atorium is not easy and if the movements of your object weaken or stop, the consequences are deadly.

Designed to be scalable, expansive, and full of possibilities, Atoriums includes complex and numerous kingdoms, races, factions, and characters, to discover along the way with an upcoming range of games, starting with the kingdom of Altenor.

The heart of the kingdom of Altenor is a thousand-year-old city built on a gigantic atorium. It is made up of large discs pierced by Towers, one of which plunges into the depths of the earth and is lost in the clouds. The discs and the rings of the Towers are in perpetual movement, like a giant clock. Some places of the structure are dungeons in permanent flux. The city spreads out over the structure and has attracted inhabitants of all kinds for ages. It is a place of life, military, magical, political and religious power, and it is here that the action takes place!
